THE PRESS.

CINCINNATI, THURSDAY, APRIL 28.

CORRESPONDENCE, containing important news, selected from any quarter of the world.
NO NOTICE taken of anonymous correspondence.
We do not return rejected communications.

Our Knowledge of Foreign Affairs.

Now that there is a prospect of stirring times in Europe, it would be gratifying to see in the correspondence of the great papers of the country something that could be relied upon, both in respect to facts and opinions. It would be difficult, however, to find any thing less worthy of confidence than the foreign letters to the American press, unless it be the things which they are gotten up to imitate—the foreign letters to the English press. A writer in the Dublin Review for October, 1856, paints, with some humor, the scene where the conductor of a leading English journal instructs, in their course of duty, two of his correspondents about to start for the continent:

"Remember, gentlemen, that, in the great and generous mind of the British public, Sardinia is up and Naples is down.
Don Whiskerandos is the favorite, and Bomba has one hundred to one taken against him. One has therefore to be written up and the other down. Act, therefore, like men of noble and impartial minds. There is good, and there is evil in this world. You go to Turin, there you must find all the good; and you go to Naples, there you must collect the bad. By serving up the two, we act im-partially. You must each furnish us with the due proportion of the quality confided to your industry. Mind, then, from Naples nothing good; from Turin nothing evil. We will mix them and make them effervesce together."

It is not so likely that such instructions are given, as that the ideas contained in the foregoing become substantially the rule of performance. The prejudices of the British public conceive, in advance, what the correspondence should be; and it is the duty of the writers to respond to the demand. From this, the facts of the letters become the facts of the "leaders," and the "thunderers" of the English press are simply the second reverberations—the echo of the echo—of the popular appetite for a particular style of intellectual al-liment. At one more remove is the American press and its correspondents. It is assumed that our stomach is like the British stomach, and the conclusion is that what is good enough for the mother country, is good enough for the daughter country.

In the present state of things, there is the same difficulty. All the knowledge we have of continental affairs, come from whatever quarter it may, passes through English channels, and is saturated with English prejudices. Our estimates of men, measures, and events, are English estimates. We praise, condemn, love, hate, admire and despise as the English do, though without a particle of their reason for it. We even change as the English change. Is LOUIS NAPOLEON popular in London, we, the people of the United States, begin to discover that he is not so bad a person after all; does he decline in that metropolis, our love cools very perceptibly. And it is the same with all the other European governments and potentates, and so, for a good while to come, it is likely to continue.

HOAX.

In the story of the Female Robinson Crusoe, now making its circuit through the papers, the press of the country has been aiding the success of a hoax so broad that, with a small knowledge of the geography of the American lakes, it could at any time, have been exploded. A sudden storm, to which the vessel bearing the adventurer was exposed, sends it skipping; hundreds of miles at a leap, from one lake to another incontinently, with a celerity to which that of the Flying Dutchman was not to be compared. Whether, in getting from Lake Huron to Lake Superior, she rushed up the Falls of St. Mary, or passed through the canal, does not appear, as no notice is taken of that event, nor of several others that must have occurred in the same connection. In fact, there are so many ridiculous inconsistencies in the narrative, that it is evident either that the hoaxer was very ignorant, or that he intended to try a very strong experiment upon the ignorance of the conductors of our educational machinery.

M. COSTE, the inventor of artificial piculetur in France, has conceived the idea of cultivating oysters upon the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts of that country, and, in some experiments, has demonstrated its practicability. He desires a stipend of ten thousand francs per annum, and a steamer under his exclusive control to make the trial.

The celebrated Black Doctor, who, for some time past, has kept up such a sensation in Paris, has been exposed, and has nearly finished his career. He is probably the most impudent quack of his day, and one of the most successful.
Driven from Rio Janeiro and London for his practices, he found a rich field in the French metropolis, where, in spite of the tears and protestations of the faculty, he has, for some time past, lived in clover.

City Council—Last Night's Proceedings

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved; after which sundry petitions and communications were presented and referred to the proper Committees.

One of these was from the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, asking permission to run a Street Railroad to connect their depot with that of the Little Miami Railroad Company.

Mr. Hamilton presented the bonds of the Assessor of the Seventeenth Ward, which were accepted.

Mr. Weaner presented an ordinance to regulate the payment of the salaries of the Judges of the Superior Court. The ordinance, which provides for the payment of the salaries a month earlier than at present, was adopted.

The same gentleman also presented a resolution authorizing the Auditor to borrow $5,000 from Groesbeck & Co., for the use of the Watch Fund.

Also, an ordinance to appropriate money to pay the current expenses of the city during the month of May.

Among the items enumerated was one appropriating $100 to pay the acting City Marshal for his services. A long debate here occurred, and resulted in striking out this part of the ordinance, after which it passed.

Mr. Noble, Chairman of the Committee on Public Improvement, presented a number of ordinances to grade and pave streets, together with some resolutions, emanating from the Board of City Improvements, both of which have been already published.

An ordinance, to establish the grade of Western Avenue, from Freeman Street to Hardison Avenue, elicited a long discussion, and was at length passed.

Mr. Hollister, from the Law Committee, offered a resolution authorizing the printing of two hundred and fifty copies of the ordinances of the city, which was adopted.

Mr. Weaner presented an ordinance to appropriate $35 to defray the expenses of the special election in the First Ward. Passed.

He also presented a communication from the City Auditor, asking that the appointment of H. H. Shultz as First Assistant, and George Stackhouse and Y. Bickham as assistants in his office, be confirmed. The request was granted.

On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered the Young Men's Christian Union for copies of the Bible which had been presented to the officers in the City Building. [The best way to return thanks in such a case would be to use the books.]

Mr. Marsh offered a resolution that the action of the City Council on last evening, in relation to the creation of a Standing Committee on Work-house be, and the same is hereby, rescinded.

Pending the consideration of this resolution, the Council adjourned.

ANOTHER TRICK BROUGHT TO LIGHT.—Another trick, on the part of John Adams, the man who was arrested on a charge of forgery, a few days ago, and in the Station-house, made an attempt to commit self-destruction, was developed yesterday afternoon.

One day last week, Adams, under the assumed name of Jacobs, went to Mr. Perine, a commission merchant on Front street, and asked payment for a draft for $90, purporting to be drawn upon him by a man in Xenia, Ohio, who, he believed, was a creditor of the house of which Mr. Perine was a partner. He received in payment for the draft a check, made payable to order, hence he could not collect the money until he had been identified. This was not done, and yesterday Mr.
Perine having discovered the trick, went to jail and recognized Adams as the man who had passed upon him the forged draft. It is quite probable that a new charge will, on this account, be made against him, which will place his guilt beyond a peradventure.

Adams was yesterday taken before Judge Love and examined upon the first offense with which he had been charged, and held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

A MAN SHOTS AT HIS WIFE FOR AMUSE-MENT.—A man named Martin Flemming, upon the complaint of his wife, who says that for some time back she has been alarmed lest he would kill her, was arrested yesterday and confined in the Hammond street Station-house.

Several weeks ago from some cause, of which she is yet unaware, he undertook to amuse himself by shooting at her, apparently without any intention of killing her, but simply for the purpose of pleasing himself. He has continued his pastime almost daily ever since, and has sometimes shot through her clothes, and often jeopardized an existence which was precious to him as to her.

Yesterday, while in one of her peculiar moods, she became more than ever alarmed, for one of the shots passed through her hair, thus barely missing her life, but at the same time, giving him a pleasure of which only her personal safety could induce her to deprive him. She, thereupon informed some officers of his conduct, who took him into their custody, where he will remain until after he has explained the cause of this singular tendency to shoot at his wife to the Judge of the Police Court.

A CINCINNATI MAN TO BE SENT TO CURA.—We learn from an exchange that the Delegates from the lodges of the Sons of Malta throughout the Union met at Columbus on last Friday evening, and resolved, in consequence of the threatened troubles in Cuba, to send a delegate embassador to that island to keep the Order in this country posted in regard to certain matters. Mr. Alf. Burnett, of this city, was unanimously elected to the position, in accordance with the resolution, of Embassador of the Grand Lodge of the United States. He immediately accepted the trust, and an out-fit of $5,000 was granted him. He will sail for Havana after he has fulfilled a few casual engagements.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.—In a difficulty which occurred in a drinking-house on the Hamilton Road, day before yesterday, Lewis Hoffmann struck a man named William Seigman, with a chair, cutting a severe gash in his forehead, and injuring him so severely that he was unable to appear at Court yesterday morning. The accused was held in bonds of $500 for his appearance on Saturday.

Patent Vice.—The newly-invented vice now being manufactured and sold by Messrs. Gray & Co., of 51 Elm street, in this city, is a vast improvement upon the vices in common use. The outer, or movable jaw, runs upon two parallel screws, hence the turning of the handle causes the entire jaw to come out or move in equidistant in all its parts from the stationary jaw. By this arrangement there is secured (what the common vices can not accomplish,) an even bite—a desideratum long wished for by mechanics of every class. The work being once secured in the jaws of this powerful instrument, the operator can increase the pressure of the jaws by means of a beautiful contrivance, as simple as it is useful: By withdrawing a catch or spring, which works in what the inventor has denominated an "independent head," the turning of the handle ceases to affect the upper screw, while it causes the lower one to revolve, thus moving out the nether end of the outer jaw, and so increasing the power of the gripe threefold what it is by the parallel pressure.

The vices which we saw at Messrs. Gray & Company's manufactory, yesterday, were those of the largest kind, such as are used in engine building, chipping, and all kinds of heavy work. His large vice has a seven inch face, is two and a half feet long, and weighs 194 pounds. Mr. Isaac Straub speaks highly of this vice; he has had one in use for some time, and is, therefore, able to bear witness to its merits, which he does in the following emphatic words: "I can assure all those who need a powerful and superior vice that if they buy yours (Gray & Co.'s) they will never regret it." And he moreover states as his opinion, that Mr. Gray's improved vice will put the old ones out of use. It is the invention of Mr. G. A. Gray, Jr., and reflects much credit upon his mechanical ingenuity.

Gray & Co. also manufacture machinist tools of all kinds, such as Lathes, Ratchet Drills, Taps, Dies, Stocks, etc.

New Circus.—Mr. Oscar Hyatt is now actively engaged in organizing a Circus Company, to travel by railroad. He has already engaged some of the best talent in the country, besides a splendid set of horses, which have been bought without regard to cost. We predict for Mr. Hyatt a successful season. We wish him all success, and we feel confident that under the supervision of so experienced a manager as Mr. H., that success is sure. Our citizens will, in a few days, have a test of their quality.

Handsome Pictures are taken by Windler, whose rooms are on Western Row, opposite Court street.

Cocaine.—From the high respectability and great skill of Mr. Burnett as a chemist, we herald with pleasure the introduction of any thing coming from his hands. His celebrated toilet preparations have already extended his popularity from one part of the Union to the other; and one result of their excellence is that those who use them once are always sure to give them the preference as standard articles for the toilet. Aside from their elegance, they are believed to be positive specifics for the purposes for which they are recommended.—Advertiser.

DR. AYER'S LUNG AND THROAT INSTITUTE,

No. 30 WEST FOURTH STREET.

The following letter is from one of our well known merchants. Whatever he endorses must be of sterling value. It is well worth reading.
CINCINNATI, February 13, 1859.
About a month ago I called at Dr. Ayer's "Throat and Lung Institute," 30 West Fourth street, for treatment for Tonsillitis and Chronic Inflammation of the Throat. The treatment and advice given to me were such as enlarged that there seemed to be but one course to pursue, and that was to cut them off. This I had been told by other physicians, who had also candidly told me they could not cure me. Dr. Ayer made a careful examination and pronounced excision necessary, and prescribed Medicated Inhalation and topical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a PERFECT CURE! The inflammation has been entirely removed, and the tonsils and palate reduced to their natural size and position. I now have no sore-ness or difficulty whatever of the throat, and feel that I AM NOW PERFECTLY WELL.
I cordially commend Dr. Ayer's skillful and competent physician in his specialty, and worthy of all confidence. His mode of treatment is rational, pleasant, and certainly in my case successful, and I have every reason to believe the Doctor is equally successful in all other cases while I have been under treatment at the Institute.

Grocers' Sugar Mill

WE, THE SUBSCRIBERS, HAVE NOW in use the improved Grocers' Sugar Mill, manufactured by Hedges, Free & Co., which we cheerfully recommend as superior to any thing of the kind for the same purpose. Its capacity is from six to ten barrels of sugar per hour, with hand power; and for mixing, crushing or grinding sugar from loaves, it performs admirably.
